Dr. Pollard and Dr. Moa have suggested that they would be willing to hold some small "new" owner meetings during lunch or whenever works with "basic" info on llama care and vet intervention IF there is an interest. We discussed putting this info out on the website to see if there was a response for their preparation before the meeting. I'm afraid I don't have much additional info but they would be willing to work from website response or interest on the day of the meeting.
